1. Feature Description, Integrity, Eligibility:

According to local resident Lisa Steckler, "They didn't actually demolish it, they converted it to a single-family home and then later added a garage. The large portion to the right on this photo [Google Street View Dec 2022] is the original footprint...I only know because I used to ride past it on my bike all the time as a kid ... they did it in stages is how I remember it...for a while the siding didn't go all the way down so you could still see the original foundation...and they had the playground equipment for some time also...so this would have been in the 80s."

Based on aerial imagery available online at <https://www.historicaerials.com/viewer>, the changes were made between 1984 and 1991. The property was platted in the Heupel Subdivision in 1988

5. Summary of ALL Site Features and Evaluation of Significance:

The property shows very little connection to its days as a school and is not eligible for listing in the National Register of Historic Places or State Historic Sites Registry for that time period. Once the conversion to a residence is 50 years in the past, it will need to be re-evaluated for significance based on that time period.

1. Feature Description, Integrity, Eligibility:

Site lead 32BLx415 was a wood-framed schoolhouse built on a concrete foundation. The roof was hipped with a large chimney. Walls were clad in horizontal siding. There was a small gable-roofed entry vestibule at the northwest corner. The school had a mix of windows including one-over-one double hung, one-over-one basement windows, fixed pane, and what appear to be casement on the north elevation.

Aerial photos indicate the school was demolished or removed sometime between the 1970s when the submitted photos were taken and early 1990s when a residence appears constructed in the same location.

I just received some photos of my elementary school. Lincoln school on south Washington in Bismarck. Would you like these for the files? I'm sure that I'm in the photo with a bunch of kids, but not sure which one! She thinks that the photos are from 1970 or 71. I attended K to 5th grade before I had to go to town!
