The feature is a one room prairie school on a concrete foundation. It was moved to this location from about a mile north. The school is used for storage and shop today. The hip roof is covered with asphalt shingles with eaves troughs all sides. There is a gable porch roof on the east side and the remains of a bell tower. The building measures 24 feet north to south and 28 feet east to west.

The siding is 6 inch wood lap on the north and west sides and 10 inch wide composite siding on the east and south walls. The east wall has two four pane windows near the south side and one near the north side and in the middle there is a large sliding door, installed to give access for vehicles. Another 4 pane window is near the west side of the south wall. A 5 panel wood door is located at the southeast corner of the south wall, covered with siding. Decorative cornices top interior windows and door. There are four large, four over four, double hung windows on the west wall with all glass intact. The interior walls and ceiling are lather and plaster. There was a blackboard on the entire north wall but it has been removed. The floor is tongue and groove hardwood. Light fixtures suggest electricity.
