1. Feature Description, Integrity, Eligibility:

The feature is a one room prairie school, also know as Sunny Side School, sitting on a concrete foundation. The gable roof of the building is covered with wood shakes with metal capping and finials. There is a cement block chimney at the peak near the east end of the school. There are also vent pipes on the southy slope that might indicate bathrooms. The soffits are closed.

A wide trim board begins the siding on the east and west walls under the peak of the roof. The remainder of the siding is 6 inch wood lap with 4 inch wood corner trim. Little paint remains. There is an entry door reached from a two step concrete porch. The door is 5 panel wood with a transom above it. Openings would indicate the presence of glass at some point in the past. There are 3 double hung windows on both the south and north sides. The windows have framing on the top half and none on the bottom, all glass is gone. There are decorative headers above all the windows on the outside. Near the east end of the school on the south wall there are two small windows that have stove pipes out the roof above them that could indicate bathrooms. My source did not go into the school to see what is just inside the entry door but I am thinking to the right would have been a coat room. The interior walls and ceiling of the school are covered with beadboard. A trim board runs along the walls at the level that wainscot might be. Between the windows on the north wall there are small blackboards and another larger blackboard runs along the entire west wall. There is a corner cupboard in the northwest corner of the school room, built out of beadboard. The floor is narrow tongue and groove hardwood. Exterior wiring on the west wall is indicative of electricity. A wood stove remains in the school and sits at the east end of the school room. This school closed in 1957.

Just north of the school is a small wood building that was used for either a barn or fuel storage. There are some old desks inside the school along with a couple wood tables.
