The feature is a one room prairie school that was moved from Section to section 20 of Solon Township. The school has shakes on the roof with no indication of chimney placement. The siding was been replaced, it is some type of permanent siding, perhaps vinyl. Windows were all replaced with multipane, fixed windows, two on the east, two on the west and two at the south, either side of the door. There is a new metal door for entry at both the north and south ends of the school. There are railroad ties for steps at both doors. The inside of the school retains some of the originality with lather and plaster walls in the entry at the south end of the building and there is also wainscott on the walls. Entry to the main body of the school was through doors at either side of the entry wall and blackboard was on the school room side of the entry wall. More blackboards were located on the north wall. No wainscott on the walls in the main body of the school. I did not go into the school but could see through the west windows that the east windows were installed in two of four window opening. The other window openings are covered with the new siding. Perhaps there were four windows on the west wall as well. The flooring is tongue and groove hardwood. The building is being used for storage.
