This one room prairie school is located on the home site, moved from the original location about 5 miles west. The building, which measures 26 feet north to south and 16 feet east to west, is in nice shape with relatively good paint. The roof is covered with shakes with a few of those missing. The red brick chimney is intact at the north end of the roof. There is a metal ridge cap with ball shaped finials. The roof on the entry is very compromised, many holes. The soffits on the school are closed. There is an 8 inch board running under the roof peaks.

The siding of the school is 6 inch wood lap with 4 inch wood corner trim boards. There are two pairs of double hung windows and one smaller window on the east side of the school. The windows have intact glass and they also have a storm window for cover. The school sits on concrete blocks. Inside the entry porch three walls and ceiling are all bead board with the school building wall the same lap siding as the remainder of the school. It looks like the entry, 8 1/2 feet by 5 feet, was tacked on at a later date. The bottom panel of the door is missing.

Inside the school the black board remains on the west wall. The walls themselves are lathe and plaster with some type of wall board on the ceiling. There is no stove in the building but the chimney and stove pipe hole are present on the north wall. The floors are wood tongue and groove.
