1. Feature Description, Integrity, Eligibility:

The feature is a one room prairie school with a hip roof and rear addition. The main body of the school measures 20 feet 2 inches north to south by 20 feet east to west. The addition measures 12 feet 7 inches at the open door and also 20 feel 2 inches north to south. The roof has remnants of ashpalt shingles over shades. Most of both are gone. On the north facing roof the chimney is falling away with some bricks on the roof and a few remaining attached. The rear shed was apparently added at a later date. The shed roof is partially covered with asphalt shingles, no shakes. There is one small window in the shed, no glass left. The siding is 6 inch lap with 6 inch boards trimming the corners. An 8 inch wide trim board runs around all four sides of the school just under the roof overhang. There is some sort of an entry on the south side, pretty rickety looking, that has wood to the left and the right as well as about one quarter of the way down the front from the sloping roof. I think it might have been added to give them protection for the entry. Above this entry door there is a sign that reads "EDGEMONT NO1". Inside the main body of the school there is another door near the north end of the east wall, leading into the back addition. There are double hung windows to the south and west and all the glass is gone. The door is tired wood. There is a concrete step leading into the school. The floor is wide, hard wood with some of that fallen in. There is a sink and old stove in the school so I am guessing someone lived here at one point. The blackboards are gone but spaces on the north wall indicated where they were. There were trim boards running around the walls of the room. Might have been wainscoting at some point. The walls are lather and plaster, much of it falling away. Most of the ceiling has fallen in. The shed is open toward the south, might have been used for garage space. Electricity was present at some point. School records indicate the last school in Edgemont Township closed in 1963.
