This one room prairie school was moved from its original location in Mauch Township to its present location in the city of Goodrich as part of a collection of buildings that make up a museum. The school building is in good repair with newer looking asphalt shingles on the roof. There is also a short chimney at the south end of the roof. The entry at the south end of the building has a shed roof and is accessed by wooden steps to a wood platform. The school has 6 inch lap siding with 6 inch corner trim boards. There is a 10 inch fascia board running under the peak of the roof at both ends. There are four double hung windows on the west side of the school and two more windows either side of the entry door on the south side. I was unable to get into the school but I could see tongue and groove flooring in the entry and the school. I could also see light fixtures inside the school. The school is furnished with desks and other items common to the period. Black boards ran along the east wall. Schools in Mauch Township closed in 1956.
