This site consists of a schoolhouse and a house. The schoolhouse measures 14m x 7m, has a wood frame with a stucco finish, and a gable front roof with cedar shake shingles. The house appears to be of the same construction and measures 10m x 5m. The house was possibly for the teacher. Both buildings are in fair shape. This property is probably not significant; schoolhouses and houses of this type are both common in rural North Dakota. This site lead was recorded during an inventory for a telephone cable; that cable will not impact this site.

Site overview, view north-northeast (roll #96-10/28, exposure #18).
