FEATURE DESCRIPTION According to our informant, Mr. Jon McMillan of Fordville, North Dakota he paid $22 for this building, which was once a schoolhouse in the Fordville district. He didn't get the building moved in time, so the Henry's (this landowner) purchased it and moved it onto this site.

The date is approximated on the basis of a date obtained for a schoolhouse of similar style (recorded as part of LT212).

1. Access: From the southwest corner of Fordville, North Dakota, proceed south on the pavement for one-half mile. Turn west on a trail which goes along the section line between sections 26 and 35. This trail will bend to the northwest. The site is approximately .2 miles northwest of this bend, to the west of a cultivated field, in the trees.

2. Description of Site: (see Architectural forms also). The nonstanding portions of LT295 consist of a collapsed boxcar and two grain wagons. A trash midden may be present but could not be seen in the thick brush and grass.

The collapsed boxcar covers an area approximately 17 meters north-south by 6 meters east-west. The exact dimensions of the original boxcar could not be determined, but the feature appears to have been the modern, wide-gauge type boxcar.

The wooden grain wagons are similar to others recorded during the present survey. The wheels have been removed from both and they are quickly deteriorating.

3. Description of Cultural Materials: see above and Architectural forms

Items: Seven features - 2 wagons, the collapsed boxcar, and four standing buildings.

Collected: none

4. Artifact Repository: no materials collected

5. Description of Subsurface Testing none on this project.

6. Current Use of Site: pasture

7. Owner's Name/Address: Ethel Henry, Grand Forks, North Dakota.

8. Vegetation: Riparian tree growth, heavy brush, and prairie grasses

9. Cover (% of visible ground): 30-40%

10. Man-hours spent on site: 5

11. Project Title/P.I. 1985 Forest River Archaeological Survey, Thomas K. Larson

12. Report Title/Author 1985 Forest River Archaeological Survey, Larson et al.

13. Other Published References: none

14. Description of Collections Observed: none

15. Owner-Address of Collections Observed: N/A

16. Statement of Integrity: The nonstanding portions of this site are in poor condition.

17. Statement of Significance: The nonstanding portions of this site have poor physical integrity. One (the boxcar) feature has obviously been moved from its original place of use. These features are therefore not believed to be significant or eligible for nomination to the National Register of Historic Places.
