1. Feature Description, Integrity, Eligibility:

The feature is a one room school on a poured concrete foundation. It has been refurbished for use as an office for Ray Farmers Union Elevator. The gable roof is covered with vertical metal sheeting. The chimney is gone. The soffits are open.

The siding is vertical metal sheeting. A locked metal door gives entry from a wood porch on the east side. The windows have all been replaced with two double hung combination windows on the north wall and two more to the left of the entry door on the east side. There's a small one on the west wall and another on the south wall of the old entry. A second metal door is located on the east side of the old entry. Electricity is present

DESCRIPTION/INTEGRITY/ELIGIBILITY Feature #1 is a town hall and/or school that appears to date to the 1910s and may have been moved to this location during its period of significance. The date of the move was between 1914 and 1965. The one-story building has an L-plan and is currently being used by R&W Fertilizer for office space. The wood-frame structure is on a poured concrete foundation and is clad with horizontal wood siding. The gable roof has a slightly lower cross-gable and is clad with wood shingles. There is a small entry porch in the bend of the "L" that is supported by a turned spindle column and has a hipped roof clad with wood shingles. The windows have all been replaced in the building. Some are metal-framed fixed, double-hung, and casement; others have been filled in with glass block.

The building retains good integrity and may be eligible for individual listing on the National Register of Historic Places under Criterion A. Further research is required, however, to determine its original location, use, and its significance.
